A CYCLING PRIMA DONNA.

PRETTY PAULINE HALL AND HER JAUNTS ON THE WHEEL

She Has a Lady's Safety Machine and Whirls Away at an Astenishing Rate of Speed—The Dudes Admire Her and the Experts Tire Out in Trying to Keep Up —Pauline Has Never Taken a "Hender."

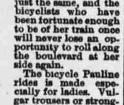

Pauline Hall on a bicycle! Etelka, queen of Hungary, and Pauline, queen of opera bouffe artists, on a little leather seat, whirling along the boulevards, precariously bal-anced on two shining steel wheels! Unique iden, isn't it? But nevertheless, astonishing as it may seem, pretty Pauline does ride a bicycle, and ride it well, too. Pauline is not airy nor fairy. Her figure is rounded and plump, but the fair prima donna of the "Nadjy" company can get on to one of these queer inventions (a ladies' safety bicycle) and owl along the boulevards with the best of Ladies on bicycles have been seen in Chieago before. Bertha von Berg once rode professionally in the skating-rinks, and there was another lady, professional also, who was wont to turn the faces of all gazers backward in surprise as she sped up an avenue on a regulation heel, clad in velvet knicker-bockers and bisck stockings. The ladies' bicycle, too, had possibly half a dozen fair riders last summer. But the spectacle is still sufficiently novel to make a woman on wheels for the nonce beholden of all beholders.

Miss Hall, however, is the first actress or singer who has been seen "wheeling it," and though she and her devoted attendants-for Pauline must always be attended, of coursehave sought secluded avenues at hours when observation was least probable, they have been seen, and the fair rider has been recog-

Of course people talked-they always do ; but what of that? Pretty Pauline has continued her exercise just the same, and the bicyclists who have been fortunate enough to be of her train once will navagions an op-

PAULINE HALL.

PAULINE HALL.

PAULINE HALL.

Treed" or "improver" it is a perfect stranger. Altogether the outift, set off by a piquant, saucy little cap and a pair of diminutive tan-colored shoes, is pretty. The fair Etelka doesn't have to mount from behind like ordinary male riders. Neither is she obliged to ride side-wise, like the unhappy, jolted-up looking girls one sees on the avenues of a nice

ON THE ROAD.

ANY. The wheels of her bicycle are both the same size, and it is built close to the ground. The seat is supported on an upright shaft of steel, and the connecting rods between the wheels are dropped sufficiently to avoid the necessity of "biturcating" the rider's nether garments. The pedals are directly beneath the seat and between the wheels, to which they communicate the energy imparted by the pretty face by means of a light chain cable. All in all, the bicycle is a very lady-like affair, and its requirements are remarkably modest.

Perched in the little cup-like seat, her toes twinkling in and out beneath the hem of her skirt, her dainty hands grasping the steering-handles lightly and the glow of health and excitement on her cheeks, pretty, chic piquant Pauline makes a graceful, novel and altogether charming picture.

Since the opening of the "Nadjy" engagement at the Grand, Miss Hall has been bicycling all over Chicago with the members of one or two of the swell clubs, notably the Illinois and the Douglas. The muscular-limbed young gentlemen who have attended her haven't had to "go easy" either in their jaunts about the suburbs. Pauline skims the gravel with the best of them, and the boys are proud of her, The stories of the Illinois Club's short tours with Pauline Hall will go down to generations of wheelmen yet to come at the club-house of the organization. To show their admiration the wheelmen have planned a novel presentation for to-night. The Illinois Club with their invited guests of the Douglas Club,

TESSIE'S THANKSGIVING.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

(Copprighted 1888 by the Author.)

HE clock on the mantel

atruck one sharply and then went off in an angry whire, as though it understood fully that Draper & Co. allowed no loitering on the part of their employees. "Ten minutes late. "The cold wave has come, mamma dear," and braid on my coat?"

"No. daughter. I'm sorry, but the silk gave out and I couldn't get it done. You morning you will have to wear my sealskin."

Tensie made a face to herself, quietly. Six dealers a weak and Shetland seal were clearly incongruous. If Mr. Draper saw her wearing it the conclusions he might draw might event seals in the loss of her situation, but it would do to tell the mother so. "Poor mauma, she hates my being a shop girl bair—Draper's young ladies were models in the matter of hair dressing—had been care-have taken a good section of the orobestra at the Grand, and will attend in a body. When Pauline sings her best solo a beautiful bicycle of flowers, a triumph of the florist's art, will be brought down the siale and presented to her in token of the bon commanderie, the fellowship existing between all lovers of the exhibitating sport, without regard to sex or exhilarating sport, without regard to sex of degree.

Marie Jensen doesn't ride a bicycle; she prefers a cab. So does Lillian Russell, and most of the rest of the stars of opera comique. Pauline Hall is unique in several things, and going out with the boys on a 'cycling jaunt is one of them. Her example will doubtless find many disciples in and out of the profession ere long, but for the present the pretty, graceful prima donna has the distinction all to herself, and has never been known to so disgrace herself as to take a "header," a feat which older wheelmen of the sterner sex accomplish with varying frequency.

BOOTH AND BARRETT STILL

Rumore That the Tragedians Are Shortly to Separate Not Credited.

The rumors to the effect that Booth and Barrett are shortly to separate have very little ground on which to rest. They are engaged in arranging their tour for next season. It is to cover the country as far West as the coast, Messrs, Booth and Barrett are a great deal stronger out of New York than in it. In fact, in the small towns it is said that it. In fact, in the small towns it is said that they do an enormous business.

After next season there is every possibility that the tragedians will go abroad, playing in England and Germany.

It is said that Barrett's ambition is to play all over the world. His season in London was not one to be remembered with pleasure by Mr. Barrett, but with Mr. Booth he hopes

Joe's Palpitation. [From the Treable Blode.]
He thought he had disease of heart,
And lite neared expiration;
He'd read a doctor's book and called
His trouble palpitation.

And hods of cost remained unbrought, He heeded no imploring; And in the yard the broken gate Itemaned, for all restoring.

Against the empty water-pail its spirit he would barden,
And weeds a yard or more in length
Were growing in the garden. For these and many more neglects
He had this explanation
To give in accents low and sad,
"Oh, dear, my palpitation!"

But when the boys came by and spoke Of baseball on the common. A pair of swiftly moving less Was seen with Joseph's form on.

The sides were placed, and Joe he had By vote the pitcher's station; The way that whisting ball was sent, Was bed for palpitation. And when his side came into bat, And he took hold the timber, He sent a beauty sailing o'er The centre-ficider limber.

"Good on your head! three-bagger, Joe, Run like—the very nation." And Joe yelled "Yes," nor thought to add, "Oh, dear, my phipitation."

But when in triumph he came round, Across the home-plate fiying. He met his father, switch in hand, A grim smile on him lying.

They went towards the barn, that place Of grief and lamentation, And since that day Joe ne'er hath said A word of palpitation.

Married Acress the Line.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 29.—A novel marriage ceremony took place near here last Sunday. The parties were John Raiston, of Highland County, Va., and Mrs. Martha Probet, of Pendleton, W. Va. The Rev. G. D. Collins, the officiating minister, saving no license to marry in West Virginia, stood on the Virginia side of the line, and the contracting parties, with a crowd of witnesses and friends, took their stand in West Virginia while the ceremony was being performed.

Answers to Correspondents. J. P. D.—You can vote at the special election, provided you register.

M. Stern.—Apply to Richard J. Morrison, Public Administrator, 49 Bockman street,
J. A. B.—A man has no legal right to visit his grandchildren against their parents' wishes.
B. C.—The half-mile amateur record is held by L. E. Myers, who ran in 1m. 55 9-5s. July 7, 1884. R. H. Sheppard.—THE EVENING WORLD prize for the best joke was awarded to Raymond E. hidder, of 206 East Eighteenth street.

George B.—There was a six-day race is Madison Square Garden May 6 to May 12, won by Little-wood. Albert still holds the record.

A. F. Mead.—Your ''Thesaurus Theologicus " us worth little or nothing in this market, though some sollector of old books might offer a few dollars for it. F. B. S.—We should say that B wins, because his check, whether payable on the 14th or 18th, covers his indebtedness, and if was received prior to the 15th.

Choate and Webster.—The querion as to whether the bet must be acknowledged rests simply on a point of honor. If no money was put up B cannot collect, as betting is illegal.

MONELL's TENTHING CONDIAL allays irritation from sething. Everybody can buy it. Price 25 cents. fully arranged the night before and done up in a kerchief to keep it smooth. Now, there were only a few crimps to undo, a few hairpins to put in place, and her golden tresses shone in all their glory, a mass of soft coils

Her breaktast "coldly furnished forth" from the dinner of the evening before, was ready and waiting, save for the cup of tea which was quickly made, and she ate with the appetite resulting from youth and health and the serene consciousness of a few minutes to spare.

"Tessie," called her mother from upstairs,
"what is the weather this morning?" She looked out of the window for the first time and drew herself together with a little shiver.
The world was gray and cold; a light snow lay on the roofs and pavements and the leaden sky gave promise of more ere many and fluffy curls.

REALM OF SPORTS.

Jack McAuliffe Would Meet Bike Denovan —Stove Brodle Will Take No Fronks in
His—A Race for Rondsculler and Pedestrians—Jay-Rye-See's Wonderful Porformance and Serious Injury.

All communications regarding sporting matters for this paper must be addressed to the Editor of THE EVENING WORLD, 32 Park Row. No one else is authorized to receive them.

Billy Madden writes thus to THE EVERING WORLD:

WORLD:

Jack McAuliffe has authorized me to arrange a match for him with Prof. Mike Donovan.

McAuliffe feels sore on account of remarks made by Donovan's friends that Donovan could knock him out inside of six rounds, Queensberry rules.

As Donovan has not retired from the ring the light-weight champion requests me to challenge
Mr. Donovan to a contest under any fair condi-

Itoms.

I will meet Mr. Donovan or his representative at any time or place which are may designate, and arrange for a contest of from six to twenty rounds, the winner to take all or 65 per cent. of the gate receipts, and we will also guarantee Mr. Donovan a bet of any part of $500 on the result.

An early reply will oblige.

The second of the series of three five-mile roller-skating contests, between A. E. Van Etten, champion of Harlem, and Dick Phillips, champion of New York State, takes place this evening at Coliseum Rink, at 9 o'clock.

Bridge-Jumper Steve Brodie has received a letter from Austin & Stone's Museum, Tremont Row, Boston, offering him $175 for a two weeks exhibition of himself. "No freaks in mine, please," said Steve by way of answer.

Harry Brooks thinks that two men can cover more distance, heel and toe, than Wallace Ross can do on his roadsculler, in the same time. Ross meets this view with an offer to race any two men any length of time for $500, his score to count against theirs combined.

The regular annual meeting for the election of officers of the National Amateur Skating Association will be held Saturday evening. Dec. 1, at 9 East Forty-Sixth street, at 8 o'clock sharp.

Richard K. Fox's latest sporting publica-tion is "The Life and Battles of Jake Kil-rain." The book is printed on tinted paper, is attractively bound and copicusly illus-trated, and will be indispensable to every sporting man's library of reference.

The state of the Carney-McAuliffe negotiations is about as it was. Both men are liberal in inducements for each other to cross the ocean for a fight, but neither will do the crossing. Carney is fearful that he will not get fair play in America. McAuliffe has other engagements to keep him at home. The latter's admirers hope that a meeting may eventually be arranged.

At Navraganeset Park in 1984, Jan Franchisch, and the contraction of the contract

At Narragansett Park, in 1884, Jay-Eye-See, the magnificent black, who had made his first brilliant appearance on the track the year before, became king of the trotters, with the marvellous record of 2.10, and, although Maud S. has since lowered the record, that performance of the big horse remains among the things wonderful. It is again being told of, as the noble speeder lies critically injured at Racine, perhaps never to be seen on the track again. A mischievous piece of giass in his pasture inflicted the wound which may yet cause a fatal hemorrhage.

been with me nearly the whole evening. Go and make yourself agreeable to Miss Bruce or Miss

Mr. Upton—But, my dear, I prefer your society.
Mrs. Upton—Yes, darling, but people will think we are fond of each other, and that is dreadfully bad form, you know.

Coming Eventa.
Second annual ball of the Reveille Focial Club,
Nilsson Hall, Monday evening, Dec. 2. Anton Seidl's second supecription concert, Saturday evening, Dec. 1, at Steinway Hall. Anniversary reception and ball of the Eleventh Ward League, Sunday evening. Dec. 2, at Tam-many Hall.

The Accommodating Mr. McGonigle. Henry McGonigie was at Essex Market Court to answer the complaint of Commissioner of Jurers Reilly that he took money from people under the promise that he would get them excased from sitting on juries. He was released on bail. Justice Goldberg is his counsel.

For Robbing His Benefactor. Peter Smith, who was taken in out of charity by George Christovetah, a kelpiess crippie and who atterwards robbed his benefactor, was sent to State Prison yesterday by Recorder Smyth for three years and six months.

many other luxuries, was an article of better days. They had not always been poor, and when her father died he fancied that he left his wife aand daughter far above the reach of want. But most of their funds, which he had invested with the view above the reach of want. But most of their funds, which he had invested with the view to save them trouble, were in the Peronzine Railroad, which for two years past had paid no dividends. The pretty little house in which they lived was their own, but their in come was too small to support them in idleness and Tessis was glad to secure a situation in Draper's through the influence of an old friend of her father's. Her mother had protested feebly and then yielded to the girl's sturdy common sense; still it was a sore point with her that her pretty daughter must work for her daily bread.

'Never mind, mamma, I shall be as warm as a toast," Tessie said, resolutely hiding her reluctance to wear the coat, and to morrow is Thanksgiving, so we shall have time to get my jacket done before church. Aren't you glad I'm going to have a holiday?" She trotted off briskly for the morning's run downtown, which kept the roses glowing in her checks in spite of her confinement in the store.

her checks in spite of her confinement in the store.

The timekeeper at the side door greeted her with a smile. 'You are five minutes early, Miss Wilbur," he said, graciously.

She passed into the coatroom, which was filling fast, and put her small lunch in her compariment, took off her hat and then hesitated, under a running fire of "What a lovely coat, Miss Wilbur!"

"Is that plush?"

"No, indeed, sealskin; my, ain't we fine," &c.

&c. Tessie's tones trembled slightly as she tried to answer quietly.

HEMMENS VERSUS COMSTOCK.

A Request That the Order of Arrest in th Conspiracy Case Be Vacated. In Supreme Court, Chambers, to-day Col. Bescher asked Judge Lawrence to vacate the order of arrest against Anthony Comstock, obtained from Judge Barrett last March by Lawyer Rerman Joseph on behalf of John spiracy.

At present Mr. Comstock is at liberty under $2,000 bail. The facts of the case are briefly these: Hemmens and a man named Shirley were Hemmens and a man named Shirley were partners in a restaurant and wine room at 50 Broadway. The building was owned by John Noble Stearns, the millionaire.

Hemmens had a lease of the building for two years and a half, when Mr. Stearns went to him and asked him to give it up for a consideration of $1,000, as he wanted to tear the building down and exact a new one.

sideration of $1,000, as he wanted to tear the building down and erect a new one.

Mr. Hemmens would not give up his lesse. Then, he alleges, his landlord told him he would get him out any way.

Detectives went to Mr. Hemmens's place and played poker there. According to the law, if Mr. Hemmens permitted gambling in his place, he broke his lesse.

Anthony Comstock raided the place one night while a poker game was in progress there and arrested Hemmens. He was tried in the Court of Special Sessions and fined $50. He alleges that his arrest was caused by the combined efforts of Mr. Stearns and Comstock.

Comstock.

He says they hired men to go and play poker in his place and that he knew nothing of it. Mr. Stearns contributes to the support of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, of which Mr. Comstock is head.

Judge Lawrence reserved his decision to-day.

A Parisian Sepantion.

(Paris Letter to Philadelphia Telegraph.)
A most sensational scene took place the other day at a small hotel in the lower part of the city near the Conservatoire. Early in the afternoon the office of the Police Comnissioner of the quarter was invaded by a beautiful young woman, who wildly implored him to come and save her infant from instant destruction. The young mother was Mile, Dheurs, an actress of the Odeon, and former first-prize winner of the Conserva-toire. She, with her little girl, resided with her mother. The old lady had suddenly be-come insane, and had carried off her grand-child and its nurse to the hotel in question. There she had barricaded herself into a bedchild and its nurse to the hotel in question. There she had barricaded herself into a bedroom, declaring that this world was one of suffering and trials, and that she and the little one should quit it forthwith for a better one. In an agony of terror, Mile. Dheurs rushed to implore the aid of the police to save her child. The Commissioner accompanied her to the hotel, and after a long series of negotiations and coaxings, the poor maniac was persuaded to open the door and to vermit the nurse and baby to leave. No sooner had they done so than she made a dash at them to regain possession of the child. The Police Commissioner gently stopped her. "What, madame!" he said, "would you think of leaving your room in such a plight? Your dress is all in disorder and your hair dishevelled; pray arrange your toilet before presenting yourself before the guests of the house." The appeal proved effectual, the universal sentiment of feminine coquetry was aroused, and while the young mother hurried away with her rescued infant to put it in some place of safety, poor crazy old Mme. Dheurs was conveyed to an asylum as a dangerous and irresponsible maniac.

[From the Kaneas City Pimes,]
A few nights ago a well-known young man who took quite a prominent part part in the recent campaign, left a party of convivial friends late at night and started homeward. As he did so his thoughts reverted to his young wife, and he naturally felt a few qualms of conscience over having allowed himself to linger so long at the shrine of Bacchus, but, as any man would, he determin ed to make the best of it under the circumstances. He would find her asleep, and perhaps he could deceive her as to the time of his return at least. So he opened the front door carefully, stealthily ascended the stairway to his apartments, discrebing as he went. With the greatest of caution he opened the door to the room, laid the clothing of which he had relieved himself upon a chair and then softly planting himself upon the edge of the bed, proceeded to pull off his shoes. This done, he turned around very carefully to see if he had aroused his wife—turned to stare in blank amazement, for the bed was not disturbed and his wife was not there! For the next few seconds that room was filled with the rapid movements of an anxious man as he jerked himself back into his clothing preparatory to start out in search of his missing spouse. He cumstances. He would find her asleep, and for the bed was not disturbed and his wife was not there! For the next few seconds that room was filled with the rapid move-ments of an anxious man as he jerked him-self back into his clothing preparatory to start out in search of his missing spouse. He found her having a merry time with some friends with whom she had spent the even-ing, but he doesn't stay out so late now as he used to.

The Custom-House to Close All Day.
The Custom-House will be closed the entire day to-day. This is a new departure, it being the custom to remain open for at least one hour on Thankagiving Day to permit the entrance and clearance of vessels.

Death of M. W. Benjamin.

INTER ROCK, Ark., Nov. 29. -M. W. Benjamin hed here at 8 o'clock yesterday of heart disease. He was a prom inent lawyer and Republican politi-cian. He was born near Binghamton, N. Y., served in the Federal Army in a Kansas regiment during the war and came to Arkansas in 1865, where he has since resided. He was Solicitor-General of State four years during the reconstruc-tion period.

A Twelve-Year-Old's Little Sport. Abraham Freeman, a twelve-year-old living at 79 Mott street, visited Max Cohen's candy store, at 18 Chrystle street, and amused himself by throwing candy all over the house. At Essex Market Police Court the fun cost him $10.

a light heart Tessie went to her poet at the ribbon counter.

It was a busy day in spite of lowering skies. Everybody seemed to be buying new ribbons for Thanksgiving, and Tessie matched shades and rolled and unrolled ball after ball trying as much as in her lay to be all things to all women in order to earn her salary.

She was glad when pleasant little Miss Baker, of the mail order, came to her with a long memorandum to fill, and chatted brightly over the task, promising before she was through to bring her a lot of samples of reduced black dress goods for her mother.

Then came her lunch hour, and on her way back to the counter a visit to the cashier's deak. Thursday was pay day, and being Thanksgiving, the day before was substituted. As she approached the deak she was struck by the expressions of face in those

"It's borrowed plumage "-but she did not

LIGHTS AND WINGS.

HEARD ABOUT THEATRES.

LATEST NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM FOOT-

Mr. Langtry Gives Mr. Breckway a Peop at the Family Skeleton-A Sacrifice to Conventionality in "Sweet Lavender" Made Without the Author's Knowledge -A Hill-Mather Coincidence in Beston.

The slight change which Manager Daniel Frohman has made in the motive of the play Sweet Lavender," now running at the Lyceum Theatre, has been the cause of considerable discussion. Mr. Frohman has made Lavender a legitimate daughter. He claims that by so doing he is catering to the audiences that frequent the Lyceum, and says that he wants families to know that when they visit that house they will see plays without a suggestion of immorality. Author Pinero was not notified of the change made in his play, but as he is in weekly receipt of pleasing royalties it will probably make little difference to him how the parentage of Lavender is settled in New York, When the piece is produced at the Boston Museum Manager Field will also use Mr. Frohman's idea. It makes no differ-ence to the body of the play. The comedy and pathos remain just as prominent as before. The change only appears in the last act when Lavender's father explains that when he first met her mother they were married, but owing to her low station, and to his desire to remain with his family, he left her, and the marriage re-

Mr. Langtry left the Ashland House last Saturday and sailed for England.

Mr. Langtry became quite chummy with Proprietor Brockway, to whom he revealed his identity. The two gentlemen found a bond of sympathy in the fact that they were Masons. Mr. Langtry was also quite friendly with two or three gentlemen with whom he "took in" several theatres. He made an excellent impression, and—to quote the words of one who saw him—he had "perfectly lovely side-whiskers." Mr. Langtry declared that he had no intention of permitting his wife to obtain a diverce. He thought she was far too anxious to get it. He said that he had never spent one single dollar of his wife's carnings. In fact, he conveyed the impression that he had no need of them whatever, being in the language of the day, "flush," He would not say what had brought him to America, and when he left last Saturday his mission was still unrevealed, but he intimated that he would probably be back in America in about a month. Many of the guests at the Ashland House are still grieving at the fact that they did not cultivate that Leicester with the lovely side whiskers. . . .

Joseph Haworth has received an offer from Ariel N. Barney to support Miss Julia Marlow in Boston next week. The announcement, however, that he had "closed" is erroneous. Mr. Barney is still waiting for an answer. Mr. Haworth is expected in the city daily. He has just filled an engagement at the Columbia 'Theatre, Chicago, where "The Bells of Haslemere" ran for three of its four allotted weeks, The piece was well received and did a fair business. But for the fourth week 'The Private Secretary was substituted. It is said that Joseph Haworth has a new play which he may "take out." He is having some comedy business written into it in Chicago. Comedy in Chicago! Ye gods and little fishes!

into it in control in the fishes!

Handsome "Tim" Frawley is in town. He has also just fulfilled an engagement with "The Bells of Haslemere."

"Do you know," said a member of "The Still Alarm" company in Boston the other night, "that the Boston Theatre across the street is packed and jammed to night because the Howard Athensum Specialty people are the attraction. What a disgrace to us actors that is!"

Weird coincidence: Manager Hill and Miss Margaret Mather, who never speak as they pass by, and who have been fighting one an-other in the courts for months, are both quar-tered at the Adams House in Boston.

Miss Clara Morris plays in Brooklyn next week. She has played in at least twenty towns since she left New York, but has been living in her private car. After Brooklyn she goes to Philadelphia, then to Baltimore.

Mountain Lions Dined on Him HELENA, Mon., Nov. 29.—Gus Lavelle and Chris Strauss, two miners, went up Lincoln Gulch sixty miles from here, to visit James Robinson who had been missing for three weeks. The me who had been missing for three weeks. The men found his skeleton lying in a bed in the cabin. It was co-cluded that as Houlsson was known to be addleted to the use of oplum he had taken an overdose and died. Tracks of mountain lions showed that the wild beasts had discovered and feasted on the body.

Mn. Rigen, My Three Children.

DEAR SIR: Your "Riker's Expectorant" cured my DEAR SIGE. Your Enter's Expectorant cured my three children of bad colds, from which they had been suffering some wasks. It relieved them in a few hours, and, before the contents of the bottle were given, they were all quite well. It has since cured both my wire and myself. Yours troly,

JANES MCCLARS,
110 East 46th as. "..." "It's borrowed plumage "—but she did not finish the sentence.

"Don't leave it down here," whispered a kind-hearted girl. "It won't be safe, and you couldn't make a fuss if you lost it."

She hesitated no longer, but taking the coat and her courage into her hand, went over to the suit department, to the head of which she owed her situation.

"Well, Miss Tessie," he said, as he looked up from his deak. "Good morning. What can I do for you to-day?"

"A great favor, please; will you keep this wrap for me? It was papa's last present to mamma, and she made me wear it because mine is being altered and wasa't quite done. I don't like to leave it in the common cloak room."

"Certainly, certainly. Is that all?" and he hung the coat in his private wardrobe. "Remember me to Mrs. Wilbur," and with a light heart Tessie went to her poet at the ribbon counter.

It was a busy day in spite of lowering skies. who were leaving—some angry, some de-jected; some scowling, others almost in tears—and she was not altogether surprised when the amount was handed to her 60 cents short.

the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The arrests were made on the club grounds, near Hempstead, L. I., and the complaint made against the gentleman was of cruelty to animals, in abetting rabbit coursing. The fourth course in the Challenge Stakes was being run when the officers appeared, and, in a very summary manner, stopped the shooting and made the arrests.

CLUB GROUNDS INVADED.

August Belmont, Jr., and Other Clubme

Arrested Rubbit Coursing.

August Belmont, jr., W. G. Rutherford and

J. O. Beach, members of the Hempstead

Coursing Club, together with two men employed as rabbit handlers, were arrested yes terday by Brooklyn agents of the Society for arrests.

The prisoners were taken before Police Justice Cloud, and held for trial at Special Sessions. The Society declares its intention to make a test case as to whether rabbit coursing is cruel or not.

The New Atlas Line Steamer Arrives. The Atlas Steamship Company's West India fleet of steamers was increased yesterday by the arrival of the new steamer Adirondack, which was of the new steamer Adirondack, which was launched at Glasgow in October. She takes the place of the Atlas, which was recently suck in the place of the Atlas, which was recently suck in the North River, in a collision with a Jersey Central ferry-boat. The new steamer is 310 feet long, has a team of 39 feet and is 24 feet and 6 joches deep. She register a 2,00 tons. The hull and framing are constructed of sized of a greater thickness than that required for the alghest class in Lloyd's. As an a idilional strength she has two steel decks. She is divided into eight water-light bulkheads, placed at intervals across the ship. All the passenger apartments are placed at the centre of the ship in front of the engine and above the main deck. This secures an all round ventilation to the electrine. Each state-room is lighted by electricity, which passengers can control. The Adirondack is in command of Capt. Sansom. The Atlas line divides honors with the Cunard line, claiming that it has never lost a life by shipwreck.

Pitterus, Pa., Nov. 29.—A Beaver, Pa., special to the Chronicle-Telegraph says: Chairman Cowden, of the West Virginia Republican State Committee, arrived at Beaver Tuceday and mad a commutation with Senator Quay, Chairman of the National Committee. The object of the conference is not known. Senator Quay will leave for the East on Thursday."

Panie in a St. Louis School. Sr. Louis, Nov. 29. -At the Blair School yesterday the steam-heating apparatus got out of order, and the pupils despite the heroic efforts of the teachers to prevent a stampeds. Miss Krebes and Miss Miller, teachers, were thrown down and trampled on, and seven girl pupils were seriously injured.

33 PER CENT. SAVING IN GAS BILLS. Prevent all Smoking and

Over 10,000 Machines in Service. GUARANTEED. REPAY THEIR COST-IN-SAVINGS-EXCLUSIVE CITY OR STATE AGENCIES AWARDED.

The Union National Gas Saving Co., 744 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.

R. Jacobs's New Lyceum Theatre Corner Montrose ave, and Leonard st, 10c. Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. MR. GRO. U. BONIFACE.

UNDER COVER H. R. JACOBS'S BROOKLYN THRATRE.

Corner of Wasnington and Job neon sta.

Matthews Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

R'MRMBER
THE PRICES. H. B. Jacobs's majestic revival of Evenings, Matthews. THE ROMANY RYE. BXTRA MATINER THANKSGIVING DAY.

BROOKLYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Thanksgiving Week.

Matinees Toursday and Saturday.

J. M. Hill. H.

UNION SQUARK THEATER COMPANY
in Mary Flate's Drama

93d to 100th time.

Popular prices—61, 75c., 50c., 25c.

GRAND OPKRA-HOUNE, Leuses and Manage "HARBOR LIGHTS." F. F. PROCTOR'S BROOKLYN THEATRE. J. H. Wallick in Two Plays. HOLMES'S STANDARD MUSEUM, Brooklyn. Colleen Bawn and the Child Stealer, COL. SINN'S PARK THEATRE.

This Week Matines Wednesday and Saturday.

Special Thanksgiving Matines.

E. H. LORD
SOTHERN OHUMLEY. ZIPP'S CABINO, CONCERTS NIGHTLY.

SATURDAY MATINEE.

De Wolfe Sisters, Nellie Collins, Marie schuls, Sapp'i Thalers Tyroleans, Minnie Schult, Alice Ravans and Amy Borchert.

Amy Borchert,

LEKAVE, AGADEMY OF MUSIC, Brooklyn, R. D.
This week. Mat. Thanksgiving Day and Sat. only.

Also the $5,000 price St. Bernard dog. Pliniunon,

Week Dec. 3—Annie Piziey. A MPHION ACADEMY, BROOKLYN.

A MPHION ACADEMY, BROOKLYN.

ENOWLES & MOKRIS.

TO-NIGHT,

JULIA MARLOWE IN INGOMAR.

To-morrow evening—TWELFTH NIGHT.

CASINO.

SAPAGIAL MARKET HANGE STATE STATE OF THE GUARD. Admission 50 cents. beats reserved four recents adva-GRAND GALA AND SOUVERILE RIGH

AMUSEMENTS.

H. R. Jacobs's (Thalia) Old Bo wery Theatre Besta Mrs. McKEE-RANKIN in Dec. 8-C. W. Couldook in "Hanni Kirse.

14 TO DAY, THANKS OF Lists at and the ave.

D. D. Lloyd's commady, THE WOMAN HATER. Gallery, 25c. Roserved. 35c., 50c., 15c., 81, 81.60. BIJOU THRATRE. THANKSGIVING Broadway, near 20th st., MATINER TO DAY AT 2.
Hopt's "Oyelone of Fun.,"

A BRASS MONKEY.

Relief, resking merriment." Herald, Get. 15. Gallery, 25c.; Reserved, 50c., 75c., 27,00, 21,50. GENERAL ADMISSION, 50c.

HARRIGAN'S PARK THRATRM.

MEDWARD HARRIGAN

MEDWARD HARRIGAN

MEDWARD HARRIGAN

WADDY

OATO Broham and his popular orobestra.

MATINERS WEDNINGDAY AND SATURDAY.

Bouvenir (Tweeday, Nov. 37). 100th performance.

Holiday Matinee Thankagiving Day.

GILMORIE A TOSIPKIND, PRODUCED AND MEASURES SO., 80c. DENMAN, PRODUCED AND MEASURES SO., 81.00. HOMESTEAD, SATURDAY MATIRER. Beats ready to Feb. 15.

NIBLO'S. DENMAN THOMPSON'S NEW PLAY.

THE TWO SISTERS.

Matines Wednesday and Baland.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. EVANS & HOEY | PARLOR MATCH. | MAT. Next Sunday three strangs cities. St. Petersburg. Moscow and Constantinopis by PROF. OROMWELL.

DOCKSTAGET'S

BROADWAY AND 29TH ST.

MINSTES,

THANSGIVING MATINEE

TO-DAY.

500., 750., 51. Matines Saturday. Resulugs at 8,30.

DALMER'S THEATRE.

MISS MARY ANDERSON.

Every evening this week (excepting Saturday), also at Saturday Matines.

THE WINTERS TALE.

Saturday Renning, PYGMALION and GALATEA.

Seats for next week now on eals.

MADISON SQUARE THEATRE.

PARTMERS.

MADISON SQUARK THEATRK. PARTNERS.
BEGINS AT S.b., Sat. Mations at J. PARTNERS.
LANT WELK. PARTNERS.
MONDAY, DEC. 3. CAPT. SWIFT. SWEET LAVENDER.

5TH AVE. THEATHE. PROTICE SARRETT.
THURSDAY AVENING and BATURDAY MAY.,
MERCHANT OF VENICE.
FRIDAY AND BATURDAY NIGHTS,
OTHELLO.

H. B. JACOBS'S 3D AVE. THEATRE.

BEALTS.

WE US & CO.

STAR THEATRE.

BY WE US & CO.

Doc. 3- Nrs. McKes-Rankin.

STAR THEATRE.

BY AN AND 19TH ST.

CRYSTAL SLIPPER,

A SUPERS SPECTAGULAR EXTRAVAGANEA.

DORIS'S MUSEUM. EXTRA THANKSGIVING ATTRACTIONS TO DAY.

TONY PASTOR'S NEW 14TH ST. THEATRE. KXTRA MATINER THANKSGIVING DAY, SPIENDIO NEW SHOW-ALL COMEDIANS, LESTER AND ALLEN. LYDIA YEAMANS. BROADWAY THEATRE, Reenings at 8. Malines Saturday at 2.
LAST WEEK
MR. HANDES
OF NEW YORK. LORD FAUNTLEROY. MINKE'S JIM THE PENMAN. PROPLE'S
THEATER. Every Evening. Mats. Thurs. and Sat.
Next Weeh.—JAS, O'NELL in MONTE CHISTO.

CTANDARD THEATRE. BURLESQUE.

Kvery KVENING at 8 and SATURDAY MATISPE.

Miss NELLIE FARREN, Mr. FRED LESLIE and London Galety Burlesque Co. in

BIONTE CRISTO, JE. THEATRE COMIQUE.

MONTE USth st., bet. 3d & Lex. aves.

MONTE O'N'ILL
Thankagiving Matine.
Next week—Uncle Tom's Cakin.
Mat. 3sturday. BATTLE OF SPECIAL SOUVENIE THANK-GIVING BAY. Portrait of Paul Philippoteans, Painter of the Estile of Getsysbur J. M. Hill. Manager.

WINDSORTHEATRE, BOWERY, near Canal
W. H. Power's Company
in the Great frish Drama
THE IVY LEAP.
NEXT WARK—THE FUGITIVE.

A MBERG'S THEATRE, Irving place and 15th et.
First Performance Saturday Evening.
PROLOG. EIN ERFOLG. FORTUNIO. WAX EDEN MUSEE.

MY LAST LECTURE to weak, nervous men is mailed free. Address, Prof. Fowner, Moodus, Conn.

At Least He Is Not a Poet Now. [SPECIAL TO THE WODLD.]
SAN PRANCISCO, NOT. 29.—"Black Bart," the famous stage robber, who was recently released from San Quentin, has disappeared, and the detectives connected with Wells, Fargo & Co. 's se-cret service think that he is the mysterious lone cret service think that he is the mysterious lone high wayman who recently stood up five teams in one day, and who has robbed stage travellers in all sections. Black Bart's similar exploits several years ago were the most andscious in the criminal nistory of this coast. He led a double life, being known in this city as a quier, respectable gentleman. He was finally traced by means of a chance landry mark on a cuff he dropped while robbing a stage. If Black Bart is the highwayman, however, he has grown more caulious inan of old, for he no longer follows his custom of attaching bits of dogserel signed "Black Bart, the P. O. cight," to trees at the scenes of his crimes.

Dedicating a Serell.

A new sacred scroll will be dedicated in the aynagogue of the Congregation Shearith Israel, 53 Avenue C, this afternoon. Rovs. A. Wormser and M. Krauskopi will speak.

"How cold it is! Come in and get dinner, and then we'll bundle up and go marketing for to-morrow. Why, what is the matter, child?"

polite gentleman who had vacated his seat in her favor. Having done so, she looked straight out of the window, as a well-bred girl should do. Two gentlemen on the other side of her, men of substance, evidently, were talking. A sentence caught her interest: "I see Draper has sent $10,000 to the sufferers by the Western floods."

"Yes; what a public-spirited man he is!"
Tessie's heart burned with an insane desire to supplement the statement with that of the reduction of his employees' salaries.

"We gave that money, not he," she thought. "I heard it said once that the salary list is over $21,000 a week. At that rate it wouldn't take long, at 10 per cent., to make up the ten thousand!"

So absorbed was she in her indignant reverier that she failed to notice when her handsome neighbor got out, and the conductor called her street twice before she heard him. Instinctively, as she reached the sidewalk, she put her hand in her pocket to feel for her purse.

It was gone!

betted; a mo scowling, others almost in tears—and she was not altegether surprised when all the amount was handed to her 60 cents short.

"All right," said the cashier, frowning, in answer to her look of inquiry." All said arise reduced 10 per cent. from the drapers down. Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was approached to per cent. from the drapers down Sign, piesse, Next"—And she was proposed to the sufferers by the Western floods."

"Yes; what a public-apprited man he is!"

"Yes; what a public-apprited man he is!"

Tessie's heart burned with an insane desire to supplement the statement with that of the results in corn and the sample from Signature and the supplementation of his employees' salaries.

"When at last the long day was ended, the reduction of his employees' salaries.

"When at last the long day was ended, the right of the right of